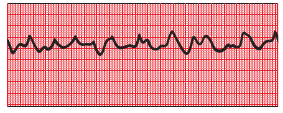
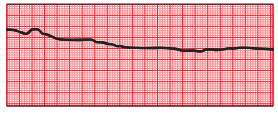
Pulseless Rhythms

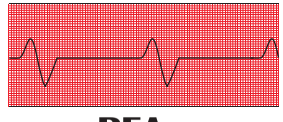


V Fib

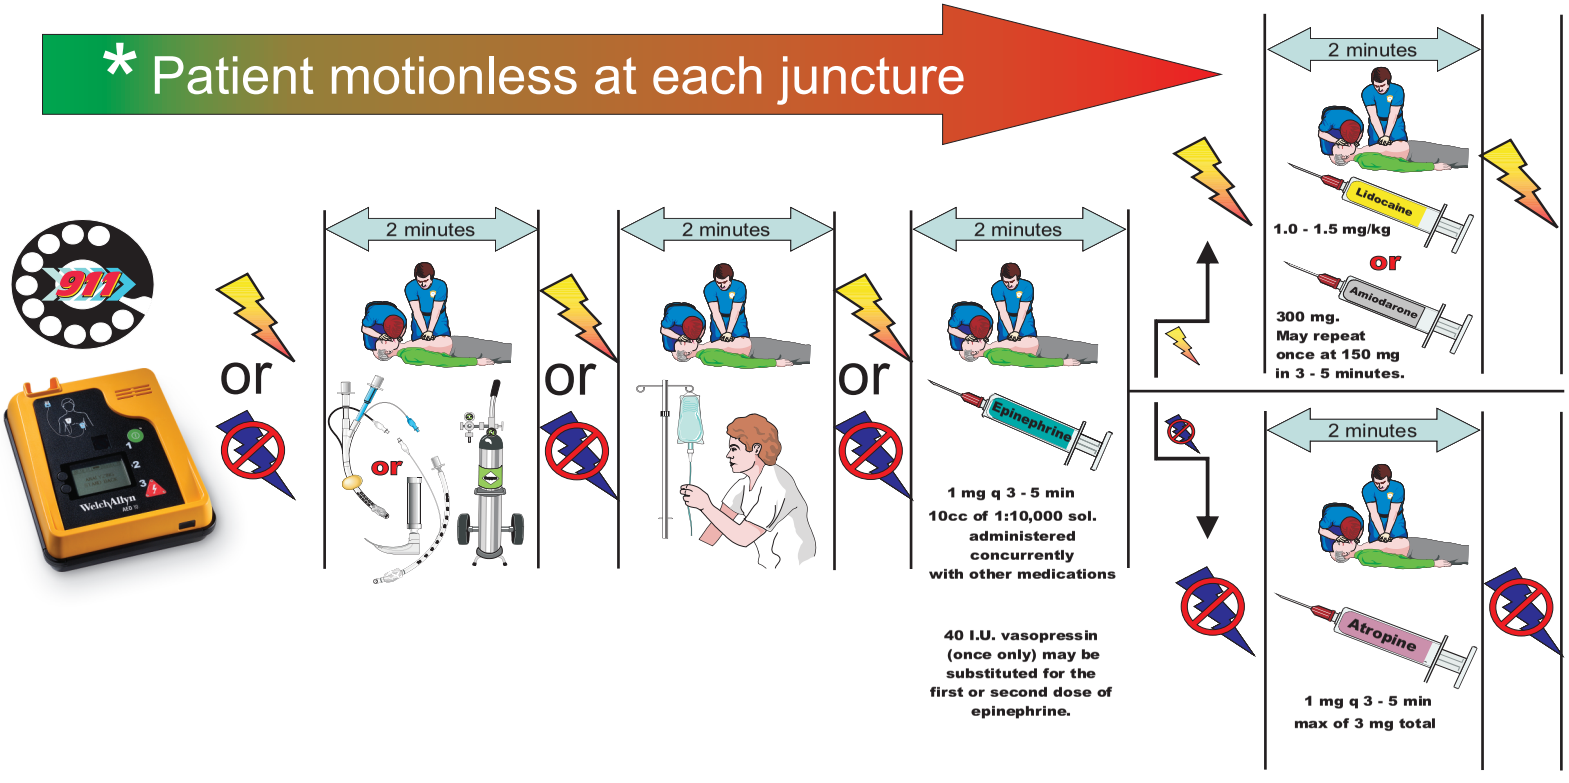
Pulseless V Tach



Asystole



PEA



* The diagram assumes that the patient remains motionless at each AED "analyze" juncture. Following epinephrine (or vasopressin), the protocol divides according to whether the AED delivers a shock. If the patient begins to move, halt CPR and medication protocol at that point. However, leave AED attached and continue to support the patient's airway, breathing, oxygenation, and circulation appropriately until EMS arrives.